A day after Jumboo Savari...

Tourists throng city

Tourists at Kuppanna Park Flower Show.

Mysuru, Oct. 1 (MTY&BCT)- The city was teeming with tourists today, a day after the Jumboo Savari. Thousands of tourists visited the Chamarajendra Zoological Gardens, Mysore Palace, Dasara Flower Show this morning and the other destinations including Chamundi Hill and the Krishna Raja Sagar (KRS) too witnessed large footfalls.

Tomorrow being Gandhi Jayanti, a Government holiday, tourists are looking to continue their holidays that began on Ayudha Puja day (Sept. 29) till next Thursday (Oct. 5) which is again a Government holiday on account of Valmiki Jayanti. However, they have to apply leave on Oct. 3 and 4.

Almost all the 7,000 rooms available in 280 lodges in city in all categories have been booked till tomorrow evening and hoteliers are expecting that the tourists will extend their stay till Oct. 5. Some hotels have gone a step ahead by setting up tourist information kiosks that give the visitors directions to must visit places from Mysuru like Kodagu, Ooty and Chikkamagaluru.

According to sources, most of the tourists to Mysuru have come from Kerala and Tamil Nadu and the State Government's move to exempt vehicles entering Mysuru from paying entry tax has proved a boon. Sources said that since Sept. 28, there has been a steady increase in tourists who are entering Mysuru through Bandipur and Chamarajanagar.

At the Chamarajendra Zoological Gardens, till around 12 noon, over 20,000 people had entered the premises and over 15,000 tourists have been recorded at the Mysore Palace. The Flower Show attracted maximum number of visitors with over 30,000 people crowding the Kuppanna Park where the Show is being held. The District Administration has extended the Flower Show till tomorrow evening.

People thronged the Mysore Palace to witness the Dasara elephants including Howdah-Elephant Arjuna in a relaxed mood. This morning, the traditional jewellery items that were put on the elephants for yesterday's procession were removed, washed and dried. Today too, the Golden Throne was thrown open to the public.

Now, the residents and visitors to the city can enjoy the illumination for one more week. The District Administration has extended the illumination of the city for another eight days. Following a suggestion by Chief Minister Siddharamaiah, the lighting across the city will continue till Oct. 8.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

MOSQUITO MENACED: Two machhars buzzing and whining in alarm.

1st machhar: These creatures called human beings are a real pest.

2nd machhar: They're much more than a pest. They're a real menace to us machhars. Always coming up with newer and newer ways to get rid of the whole lot of us.

1st machhar: And each time they come up with a new way to kill us, we have to develop an immunity to it.

2nd machhar: Yeah. Like we had to do with that thing called DDT.

1st machhar: And no sooner had we taught ourselves how to be immune to DDT, humans invented something called Flit, which we had to immunise ourselves against. With all the experience we've had at making ourselves immune, we could set up an International Institute of Immunology.

2nd machhar: We sure could. But this latest anti-machhar invention of humans has got us beat. There seems to be no way we can make ourselves immune to it.

1st machhar: Yeah, those sneaky humans have devised a new and most deadly form of pesticide which is mixed in with their blood, which if we suck immediately infects us and — before you can say dengue or chickungunya — it's finito for us. And there appears to be no remedy for this poison.

2nd machhar: Yeah. It's the most lethal of all toxins and it's called Hate. Humans have made themselves so chock-full of it that it's instant death for any machhar that bites them.

1st machhar: And every day, humans are filling themselves with more Hate, finding new things to Hate, like other humans' religion, or eating habits, or nationality, or ideology, making it more and more deadly for us to bite them. It's a real sting operation. There's only one hope for us.

2nd machhar: Yeah? What's that?

1st machhar: That human Hate will finish off humans before it finishes us off …

NEWS SPARKLERS

Purple Tears

Ottawa: Catt Gallinger, from Ottawa, Canada, decided to get an eyeball tattoo so that she would "feel more at home in my body," but never imagined it would end up costing her sight. Soon after colouring the white of her left eyeball purple, the 24-year-old pet nutritionist noticed purple discharge oozing out of it. She went to the doctors where they administered antibiotic drops and sent her home.

Unfortunately, things got even worse after that. Her eye became swollen shut, and after doctors used steroids to alleviate her symptoms, the tattoo became congealed around her cornea, affecting her vision and causing severe discomfort.

Doctors have told Gallinger that her eye has been permanently affected and have to "go completely or stay a blurry mess." However, she remains hopeful that surgery may repair the damage. She started posting photos and videos of herself during various stages of her condition, cautioning people to look into the tattoo artist's work and reputation before undergoing the procedure.

Attracting male students with maids

Tokyo: It's no secret that Japanese men have a thing for maids. Like this new programming school in Shibuya, Tokyo, that is trying to attract male students by having cute maids studying alongside them.

MadeInMaidFamily is one of many trade schools in Tokyo, so its founders knew that they had to come up with something special to give them an edge in a very competitive market. Their solution — cute maids to keep male students coming back and motivate them to hone their programming skills.

But hiring some attractive girls to simply keep male students paying for programming courses would have probably been frowned upon by the general public, which is why MadeInMaid Family came up with a better solution. It claims to offer the maids the opportunity to learn programming alongside the other students, which is bound to increase their chances of securing a better job in the future.

Reintroduce bus numbers 129 & 135 via Manasagangothri

Sir,

KSRTC route bus numbers 129 and 135 used to ply through Manasagangothri campus touching the library-stop quite smoothly for decades. This was a great help to PG students and commuters to and fro the University.

But for the last two years the said buses have stopped operating through the campus causing inconvenience to staff and students. There is no point in stopping these regular buses which are of great help to the student community.

The University authorities must see to it that the gates at all entry and exit points (of the campus) are always kept open so that commuters/ buses can reach their destinations on time.

Yaduveer conducts Vijaya Yatre

Mysuru, Oct. 1 (MTY&DM)- Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar took out a Vijaya Yatre on Vijayadashami at the Palace premises yesterday.

Seated in a silver chariot drawn by cattle, he went around the Palace and offered Banni Puja at Sri Bhuvaneshwari Temple. The people who had already gathered in huge numbers in the premises, cheered and greeted him. The Yatre was witnessed by his wife Trishikha Kumari Wadiyar, mother Pramoda Devi Wadiyar and others related to the Royal family.

Ayudha Puja in Palace

On Friday, Yaduveer performed Ayudha Puja inside the Palace. He offered puja at the Kodi Someshwara Temple, following which 'Poornahuti' ritual was performed in the Palace's Chandi Homa site. Later, pujas were performed to Pattada Aane, Pattada Hasu and Pattada Kudure at around 11.30 am, following which pujas were performed to weapons at about 12.15 pm.

The last private Durbar (Khas Durbar) was held at the Palace Durbar Hall at 7 pm, following which 'Simha Visarjane' and 'Kanaka Visarjane' were performed.

Despite warning, people climb old structures to view 'Jumboo Savari'

Mysuru, Oct. 1- Despite Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) issuing a strict warning to people not to climb on heritage and old structures to witness Jamboo Savari, people could be seen on many such buildings along the Raja Marga, the route of the procession yesterday. Concerned by the dilapidated state of buildings along the Jumboo Savari route, the MCC Commissioner had issued a directive to people not to climb the heritage structures on Sayyaji Rao Road on the day of the procession.

This order applied to both government and private buildings and it stated that at no point, people will be allowed to climb the structures, especially during the time of the procession. The order was issued under Karnataka Municipality Act 1976 Sections 322 (1) and 3. Police were seen trying to convince people to get down from the buildings. Besides, people also climbed on to trees to get a glimpse of the Jamboo Savari. People were seen even on the dilapidated and partially collapsed Devaraja Market building.

No streetlights: Meanwhile, many spectators were disappointed as they missed the opportunity to get a glimpse of the Dasara procession due to darkness.

By the time the procession reached Highway Circle, it was almost dark and there were no streetlights there. Even a few tableaux had to be stopped near the circle due to darkness. People gathered there were seen blaming the MCC and the authorities concerned for the lapses.

Traffic chaos: The four-lane Mysuru-Bengaluru Highway witnessed traffic chaos yesterday, thanks to thousands of vehicles plying on both the sides. According to tourists, cabs, including SUVs, are taking up to six hours to reach Mysuru from Bengaluru. The normal travel time is around three hours. According to tourists who started arriving in Mysuru, there were traffic jams in many places. Due to rain in Ramanagaram and Mandya, cabbies found driving difficult. After Srirangapatna, the traffic density was very high.

Rain gives break for Vijayadashami

Mysuru, Oct. 1 (RKB&DM)- The heavy rains which pounded the city for most of the week, however gave a break for yesterday's Jumboo Savari procession, much to the delight of thousands of people who had gathered along the 5km procession route.

Although the clouds loomed large over the city since morning, it scattered for sometime giving a huge relief to everyone.

However, the cloud began to gather once again at about 3.30 pm, when CM Siddharamaiah instructed the authorities to speed up the procession march. There was no rain and Siddharamaiah, accompanied by District Minister Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa and other Ministers, Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar showered flowers on the idol of Goddess Chamundeshwari which was carried by howdah elephant Arjuna at around 5 pm.

Arjuna, carrying the 750kg Golden Howdah, was accompanied by other Dasara elephants, bringing alive the royal tradition of the erstwhile Mysuru rulers.

Lakhs witness Jumboo Savari

Mysuru, Oct. 1 (RK&NNN)- The tenth day of the 407th Dasara Celebration was bathed in a sea of humanity, as the procession that began from the Balarama Gate of the iconic Mysore Palace and reached the Bannimantap Grounds, went off peacefully with even the Rain Gods appeasing.

Chief Minister Siddharamaiah and other dignitaries performed puja to the Nandi Dhwaja at 2.20 pm during the auspicious Shuba Makara Lagna, near the Kote Anjaneyaswamy Temple, thus heralding the world famous Dasara Procession, here yesterday.

Later, at 5 pm, the Chief Minister showered floral petals on Arjuna, the elephant carrying the 750 kg golden howdah in which the idol of the fully decked up Goddess Chamundeshwari clad in a blue saree presented by Siddharamaiah's wife Parvathi was placed. He was accompanied by poet Prof. Nissar Ahmed, District Minister Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa, Mayor M.J. Ravikumar, Deputy Commissioner D. Randeep, Police Commissioner Dr. A.S. Rao and the Titular head of the Mysore Royal family Yaudveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar on the dais.

The 57-year-old Arjuna was carrying Sri Chamundeshwari, the reigning deity of Mysuru for the sixth year in a row. He was flanked by female "Kumki" elephants Kaveri and Vijaya. And as they marched majestically after the 21-gun salute, thousands watched in awe and some had tears in their eyes as they folded their hands in deep reverence to the Goddess.

Lakhs had gathered on the nearly 5 km route to watch a spectacle that never fails to amaze people who watch it live or on television year after year. The procession wound its way slowly as the people on the route were witness to the rich culture, tradition and history, even as folk troupes with their breathtaking skills caught the attention of the viewers. The 40 tableaus that showcased the importance of the 29 districts and the progress and achievements of the State Government added a touch of awe and splendour to the procession that was being witnessed all over the world.

The Mysuru District Administration and Dasara Cultural Committee had organised this historic Jumboo Savari and with a just a few minor hiccups, was a very peaceful procession. The procession, which began around 2.30 pm took almost four-and-a-half hours to complete. It reached the Bannimantap Grounds also called the Torch Light Parade Grounds at 7 pm.

The procession passed through Chamaraja Circle, reached the famous K.R. Circle took a right turn entered Sayyaji Rao Road, passed through Ayurveda Circle, Old RMC Circle, Bamboo Bazar and through Highway Circle reached Bannimantap.

The procession was led by Nishane elephants Balarama, who has carried the howdah 13 times from 1999 to 2011. He was followed by 'Noufath' elephant Abhimanyu. The three new elephants that participated in the procession for the first time included Bhima, Drona and Krishna. The other elephants were Gopi, Varalakshmi, Vikrama, Prashanth, Gajendra, Harsha and Gopalswamy who were all 'Saalaanes' or row elephants.

Tableaux add sparkle

Mysuru, Oct. 1 (MTY&VNS)- Yesterday's Jumboo Savari was a treat to watch with Arjuna, the Howdah Elephant, carrying the 750-Kg Golden Howdah with the idol of Goddess Chamundeshwari on the Raja Marga from Mysore Palace to Bannimantap Ground. However, adding glitter to the grand procession was the tableaux representing various districts, boards and corporations.

This year 40 tableaux participated in the procession representing rich tradition and culture of our State. They also created awareness about the pro-people programmes announced by the State Government.

'Mirza's Fort of Uttara Kannada, 'Gomateshwara' statute by Department of Kannada and Culture, 'Development of Kodagu', 'Janapada Siri' by Chamarajanagar, 'Ranganathaswamy Temple' by Chikkaballapur, 'Madakari Nayaka Fort' by Chitradurga, 'Water Conservation' by Dakshina Kannada, 'Swacch Bharat' by Davanagere, 'Veerupaksha Temple' by Hampi, 'Bhootanatha Temple' of Bagalkot, 'Kamala Basadi' of Belagavi, 'Wadiyars' of Mysuru, 'Ramanujacharya Sahasramanothsava' of Mandya, 'Railway Coach Factory' of Yadgir, ' Tableau showcasing Naadaprabhu Kempegowda and Salumarada Thimmakka' of Ramanagara, 'Akkamahadevi' of Shivamogga were some of the important tableaux this year.

State Government announced the winners of the best tableaux.

1. Dharma Samanvaya of Gadag, 2. History of Karnataka and Forest by Tourism Department and 3. Cauvery Neeravari Nigama. This apart, five consolation prizes were also given to Deviramma Betta (Chikkamagaluru), Yediyur Siddalingeshwara Temple (Tumakuru), Forest Department, Siri (Kalaburagi) and Kamala Basadi (Belagavi).

Chaos at Palace gates as private firm goofs up

Mysuru, Oct. 1- For the first time in the history of Mysuru Dasara, the administration of entry gates and the management of entry tickets at the Mysore Palace was entrusted to a private party with the expectations that they will perform their duties to the best of their abilities. However, this move has failed miserably as the lack of coordination and apathy came to the fore, leading to utter chaos.

The responsibility of entry ticket management was this time handed over or outsourced to "BookMyShow" to prevent confusion. Many people with valid entry passes were denied entry and many VIPs too had to wait for hours outside the gates waiting for their chance to witness the Jumboo Savari. Lack of coordination between the district administration and city Police too was visible. The show managers even restricted the movement of some media persons who possessed valid entry cards.

The specially designed media gallery to cover the proceedings of Jumboo Savari inauguration was occupied by non-media personnel leading to heated exchanges.

The visitors' capacity was increased to 25,400 this year as against the usual 21,000, but the premises were overcrowded with more number of spectators.

Most of them were seen standing due to lack of seating arrangements.

Many visitors complained that the "BookMyShow" authorities had placed a few placards on the seating arrangements and had washed their hands off when the actual task of crowd management was needed.

For those who had witnessed the earlier Dasara celebrations where there was order, this year's chaotic situation came as a disappointment. While the Police blamed the "BookMyShow" authorities for the mess, the latter blamed the increased number of people and the number of passes issued.

The forest department too, had a tough time in controlling the crowd where many people wanted to take the photos of Arjuna.

People were also straining to get close to Arjuna carrying the Golden Howdah during the procession. They gathered around the pachyderm to click selfies, giving officials a hard time keeping them in order.

The enthusiastic crowds proved a nightmare for the mahouts, who made sure that the elephants make their way carefully through them without causing anyone any harm.

Mahout Vinu, who sat on Arjuna said, "If elephants are allowed to walk without interruption the procession can be completed half-an-hour early and the animals will not be stressed out either. A distance of 20 feet should be maintained around the jumbos by Policemen for them to walk comfortably."

And the winners are...

Dharma Samanvaya of Gadag (First prize)

History of Karnataka and wildlife by Tourism Department (Second prize)

Cauvery Neeravari Nigama (Third prize)

Consolation Prizes

Deviramma Betta (Chikkamagaluru)

Yediyur Siddalingeshwara Temple (Tumakuru)

Forest Department

Siri (Kalaburagi)

Kamala Basadi (Belagavi)

Baby showers to Trishikha

Mysuru, Oct. 1 (MTY&VNS)- There was a sense of joy and happiness all over the Mysore Palace this morning as the royal family performed 'Seemantha Shastra' (baby showers ceremony) on Trishikha Kumari Wadiyar, who is expecting a child.

It was a private ceremony where only a few invitees including the members of Mysore Royal Family, Dungarpur Royal Family, Yaduveer's biological parents Swarup Anand Gopal Raj Urs and Tripurasundari Devi, representatives of Parakala Mutt and Palace Priests and other guests participated.

Senior women members of the family performed a few rituals including 'Madlakki Shastra,' praying for the well-being of both mother and the child. The Palace Priests also chanted Vedic hymns to wish mother and child prosperity and health.

Today's baby shower ceremony is indeed special because the previous king Srikantadatta Narasimharaja Wadiyar did not have children. After the death of the king Srikantadatta Wadiyar, his wife Pramoda Devi adopted Yaduveer as her son and thus the titular head of Mysuru kingdom.

Born as Yaduveer Gopal Raj, he is the only son of Swarup Anand Gopal Raj, and his wife, Tripurasundari Devi, the niece of the late Maharaja Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar married the princess of Dungarpur Palace in Rajasthan, Trishikha Kumari on June 27, last year.

For 400 years, the alternate Mysuru Maharajas have not had children. It is said that a woman from an influential background had cursed the Mysuru kingdom's ancestor that no Mysuru king will have a child. Accordingly, so far only the adopted sons have had children.

Chopper hit by bird, makes emergency landing

Mysuru, Oct. 1 (MTY&KS)- A Pavan Hans chopper with seven people including the pilot made an emergency landing during the second trip of the joy ride after the front right side glass shield shattered following a bird hit this morning.

The chopper, which took off from Lalitha Mahal helipad at about 10.15 am today, reportedly made an emergency landing after about 4 to 5 minutes after an eagle hit the front right side glass shield shattering it.

The presence of mind and the skills of the pilot helped the passengers to maintain calm and the pilot brought the chopper at Lalitha Mahal Helipad successfully. Blood stains were also found on the glass shield of the chopper.

Meanwhile, the pilots, DC D. Randeep and Pavan Hans officials were waiting for the senior officials of Pavan Hans to conduct inspection and for their report. The damaged chopper has been grounded and the joy rides are continued using the other chopper.

Dasara elephants to return to camps on Oct. 3

Mysuru, Oct. 1 (PM&NNN)- The 15 Dasara Elephants including the cynosure of all eyes Arjuna, the howdah elephant were all in a relaxed mood, this morning, after completing a successful day yesterday, winning the hearts of lakhs of people.

The Gajapayana (elephant march) will begin on Oct. 3 after the puja to them at 8 pm and they will be returning to their respective elephant camps. Howdah elephant Arjuna will return to Balle Camp in Nagarhole, while Gajendra will be back in K.Gudi camp in Chamarajanagar. The seven Dasara elephants will return to Mathigudi in Nagarhole and the other six elephants will go back to their home in Dubare camp in Kodagu.

Elephants relax: All the 15 elephants were found relaxing at the Mysore Palace premises after days and months of rehearsals with the Mahouts and Kavadis giving them bath. They were serving the elephants paddy mixed with jaggery, leaves of Banyan tree, coconuts, sugarcane and other items. DCF Yedakondalu speaking to Star of Mysore said, "I thank the District Administration, Police, Dasara Special Sub-Committee for the smooth conduct of the entire Dasara."

Vishalakshi Devi daughter of Jayachamaraja Wadiyar, the last ruler of Wadiyar dynasty, accompanied by her daughter Shruti visited the elephants, who were relaxing in the Mysore Palace premises and offered them jaggery and other food items.

Mahouts, Kavadis on tour: The Mahouts , Kavadis and their family members, numbering 150 in all, will be taken on a tour of important destinations including Srirangpatna, Ranganathittu, KRS tomorrow in buses, said DCF Yedukondalu.

Folk troupes return: Majority of the folk troupes who had come from various parts of the State and were staying at Nanjanraja Bahadur Choultry on Vinoba Road returned to their respective destinations last night itself.

R-Day Parade model just a pipe dream

Mysuru, Oct. 1 (MTY&NNN)- There is hardly any city in the country, which celebrates the ten-day Dasara festival with the same pomp, pageantry, razzmatazz, culture and history all rolled into one like the one in Mysuru.

The 407-year-old Dasara celebrations started by Raja Wadiyar in Srirangapatna, has moved from dynasty-ruled festival to Nada Habba or people's festival. However, every year the incumbent ruling party promises that it will be held along the lines of Republic Day Parade in Delhi's Rajpath. But, it has remained a pipe dream as one witnessed this year too, the same chaos, indiscipline, disorderliness and plain lack of respect for the animals and the artistes.If the model of R-Day Parade is followed then there should not be many people surrounding the folk troupes, floats, and the elephants. However, what we see is exactly the opposite with hundreds surrounding the paraphernalia throughout the procession route. The only place where there is an exception that is seen is when the Chief Minister showers flower petals on the elephant carrying the 750 kg golden howdah to mark the commencement of the final procession when there are just five or six people on the dais.

Security lapse: The very fact that the security personnel including the Black Cat Commandos who were brought in to prevent any untoward incidents were found taking photographs of the procession, displayed the utter lack of concern of the Government and those involved in the safety of the people.

Helicopter ride: DCF V. Yedukondalu had written to the Deputy Commissioner D. Randeep and the Mysore Airport's Director Manoj Kumar Singh not to allow the helicopters to fly over the Mysore Palace and on the procession route especially on Sept.30, the Jumboo Savari day.

Throwing all caution to the winds the Helicopter Joy Rides continued yesterday till 2 pm, even as the Dasara elephants were getting ready for the majestic march as part of the Jumboo Savari.

Hotels make a killing

Mysuru, Oct. 1 (NNN)- Chief Minister Siddharmaiah has expressed his displeasure at the distribution of free passes to the public. At the same time he has condoned the District Administration and the Dasara Special Sub-Committee as they were helpless to meet the demands of the free passes.

In fact, the CM himself has said that a Cabinet Minister wanted 100 free passes for his supporters, which the District Administration was unable to fulfil. There are more free passes than tickets. There was huge demand for tickets costing Rs. 1,000, Rs. 500 and Rs. 250, and even Gold Passes costing Rs. 5,000 to watch the Dasara procession, which was all sold out in no time.

Thus, many people who wanted to purchase tickets and watch the procession were deprived and this was taking advantage of by the many hotels dotting the procession route who charged more than three times the room rent to accommodate guests to watch the procession.

A couple in Vijayanagar, Manjunath and Nirupama had many guests including children who had come to watch Jamboo Savari. After finding that tickets were not available, Manjunath, a Consultant for a private firm, hit upon an idea and booked two rooms at a hotel on Sayyaji Rao Road close to Highway Circle. "I had to pay Rs. 4,000 for each room and eight of us including children checked into the hotel at 11.30 am. We even carried food and after watching the procession, returned home after 7 pm," said Manjunath and added, "I found that a hotel next door had made better arrangements on the roof top, which had a better vantage point and even they were charging a lot of money."

Another couple from Bengaluru, Niranjan Subba Rao and Indu had made similar arrangements with a hotel where even a dais had been erected to watch the processions, while a man and his daughter M. Shivashanker and Megha, were lucky enough to find place in a private residence on Sayyaji Rao Road.

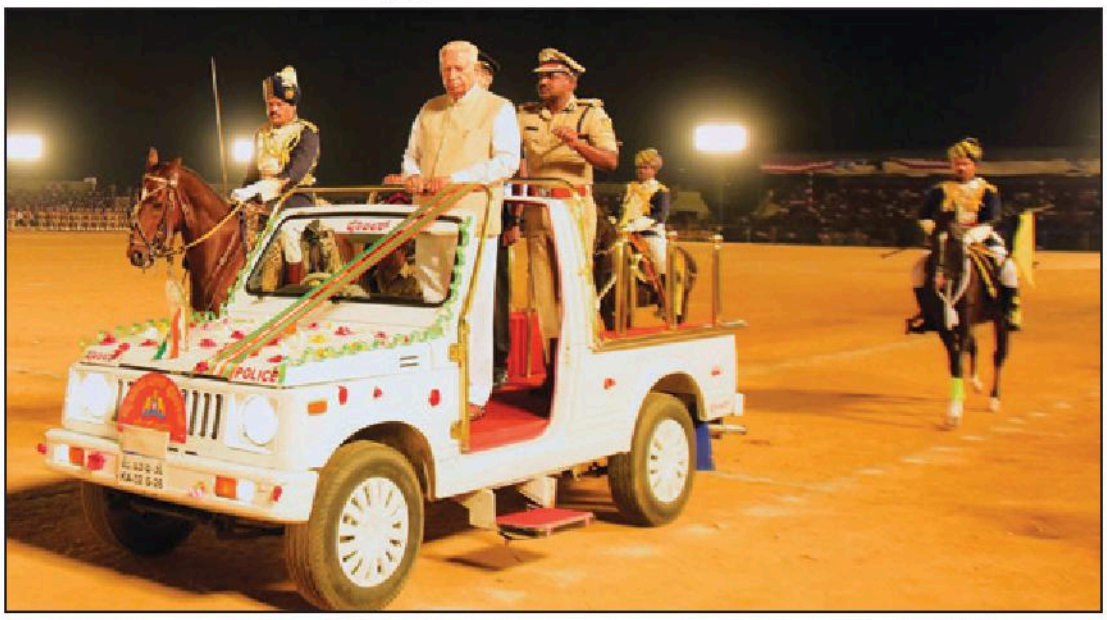
Torchlight Parade enthrals audience



Karnataka Governor Vajubhai R. Vala taking salute from the contingents during the Torchlight Parade at Bannimantap Grounds last evening. City Police Commissioner Dr. A. Subrahmanyeswara Rao is also seen.

Mysuru, Oct. 1 (YDS)- The torchlight Parade at the sprawling Bannimantap Grounds and the splendid fireworks that followed, brought down curtains for the 10-day Dasara festival last night.

The dazzling torchlight parade with laser display and spectacular fireworks were a visual delight to thousands of spectators.

The event got off to a start after Karnataka Governor Vajubhai R. Vala took salute from the contingents, including Home Guards and Scouts & Guides in the grounds. Also, 21 cannon-firing was done in three rounds to mark the beginning of the event.

The over two-hour grand show began around 8 pm, after the Dasara procession of caparisoned elephants, horse-drawn carriages, over 60 cultural and folk troupes, comprising a total of about 2,000 artistes and 40 tableaux marched the 5 km procession route from the city Palace and reached Bannimantap Grounds at about 7 pm.

The parade featured a breath-taking performance by about 300 Police personnel on horses and motorcycles with their daredevilry acrobatics.

The equestrian show by a six-member ace horsemen enthralled the capacity crowd and drew loud applause from the packed stands.

The bike show by Tornadoes team on 20 Royal Enfield motorcycles who performed chain crossing, scissor crossing, moving triangle crossing, ploy single crossing, etc. was simply mesmerising.

The pyramid formation by 30 men on seven motorcycles, climbing the ladder and many such other shunts were amazing. Cultural shows were also the highlight of the programme.

Chief Minister Siddharamaiah, renowned poet Prof. K.S. Nissar Ahmed, who inaugurated the Dasara festivities this year, Home Minister Ramalinga Reddy, PWD & District Minister Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa, Ministers Priyank Kharge, B. Ramanath Rai, H.M. Revanna and Taveer Sait, Mayor M.J. Ravikumar, Zilla Panchayat President Nayeema Sulthana and others were present during the show.
